

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL XXIII.

STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1895.

NO. 58

OF A LOCAL NATURE.

—A McCreary man will be nominated in Spencer and Bullitt.

—The Boyle county populists made no nominations. There wasn't enough of them to fill the places.

—Anthony Garner, who killed Alvin Wilburn in Russell county last week, was caught in Nashville.

—A furnace of the Wattle syndicate at Middleshoro was blown in Wednesday amid great jubilation of the citizens.

—One of the collecting agents who worked Richmond people so prolifically has been sentenced to one year in the pen.

—Eli Farmer, an ex-Representative, shot and killed Hamp Angel in Pulaski county Sunday, who was beating Farmer's son.

—Sandy Anderson, who murdered his mistress at Jellico four years ago, was captured after five years of wandering and returned to the scene of his crime.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

—Four SALE—3,000 bushels of excellent hay. Josh B. Jones, Stanford, Ky.

—Clover Seed—I want a hatter at my farm immediately. Jos. Ballou.

—H. H. Cash sold to J. H. Baughman & Co., delivered at Gilberts Creek Station 400 bushels of wheat at 57c.

—F. P. Bishop sold to H. T. Bush a 3-year-old work mule for $65 and some butcher stuff to M. F. Eikin at 24c.

—The California Breeder remarks that of the 400 trotters and pacers in training at Sacramento, 125 can beat 2:20 this season.

—An Allegan county (Mich.) correspondent estimates the yield of the lake shore peach belt at about 5,000,000 baskets.

—The horse ridden by Jockey Ream at Windsor, Canada, fell with him and so badly injured him that he died in an hour.

—In Washington county the drouth has made water very scarce, and around Mackville stock water is hauled seven miles.

—Riley Grauman is himself authority for the statement that he has won more than $125,000 since the beginning of the Saratoga meeting, says the New York Sun.

—Waller Bennett rented the Clay farm, 275 acres, near town, for $1,000. The Moran land at Silver Creek rented at $2.80 to $1.10 an acre.—Richmond Climax.

—James B. Clay, proprietor of Ironquins stud in Fayette and owner of Chance, by War Dance, made an assignment to J. W. Sayre for the benefit of his creditors.

—Montie Fox bought for Simon Well and M. Goldsmith 183 export cattle weighing 1,400 to 1,625 pounds at 4 to 4 1/2c. Most of them were bought in Boyle and Lincoln counties.

—At Gravesend track Tuesday, Henry of Navarre took the first special race in handy style from Sir Walter, Domino, Rey el Santa Anita, Clifford, and others, winning easily. In the Holly Handicap Ben Brush won in fast time from the best youngsters in training.

—Andrew Whitley sold to J. C. Johnson 67 lambs that averaged 90 pounds at 4c. Monte Fox bought 183 fat cattle from Richard Gentry, J. C. Johnson, B. C. Berry and Farris & Whitley, this county, and D. S. Johnson, of McKinney, at from $4 to $7.5. They averaged from 1,410 to 1,625 pounds.—Advocate.

—John & Homer Baughman sold to W. H. Shears 50 hogs, average 200 lbs. at 4 to 4 1/2c. James Middleton sold to Farris & Whitley 40 acres of corn adjoining their place at $1.50 per barrel in the shock. R. G. Evans bought of J. A. Woods 53 cattle, 960 pounds average, at 24, and 17 from Pennington, of Lincoln, 210 pounds, at 31. Farris & Whitley bought of Jim Allen 1,050-pound feeders at 31, and from John Wood a bunch of 1,200-pound oxen at 24.—Advocate.

MT. VERNON, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—The band boys have a full set of new instruments.

—The new Presbyterian church will be built upon a lot on West Main street presented by Judge Colyer.

—G. C. Kennedy, Jr., is doing telegraph work at Etown. Mr. H. C. Weber is visiting homefolks. Mr. W. M. Weber is in Knoxville.

—The number of pupils at the College Institute increases weekly. A new sidewalk is badly needed, however, and should be laid at once.

—The democrats have nominated Mr. Abel Pennington as their Legislative candidate to represent Laurel and Rockcastle. Mr. P. will make a good race.

—The entertainment of next Monday evening promises to be a delightful affair. Misses Ritchie, McClure and Miller will sing some beautiful solos as part of the program.

—We are sorry to have to chronicle the death of Wm. M. DeBord, son of Martin W. and Sallie A. DeBord, which occurred at the home of his brother, M. B. DeBord. He was a most worthy young man and leaves a circle of mourning relatives.

—Miss May Adams, of Grays, Mrs. Kate Zellers, of Crab Orchard, and Mr. Howard Cornelius, of Russellville, were among the guests at the Hooker-Kennedy wedding. Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Thompson, of Garrard, are visiting relatives here. Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Baker and Miss Mollie are visiting in Lincoln county.

—Circuit court convened Monday with Judge J. W. Alcorn judge pro tem. Adjournment was in order in the afternoon until next Monday on account of the absence of the regular judge, T. Z. Morrow, who had arrangements which prevented his coming before the time mentioned. The grand jury indicted Jack Adams for the murder of E. H. Capps and Estey Lackey and Madrell for rape.

—Evelyn Lackey and Tom Madrell, two darkies, were arrested on a charge of rape on a warrant sworn out by Polly Ann Bryant, a white woman whose character used a shady odor. At the examining trial the defendants were held in the sum of $500 each and were remanded to jail. Madrell has been here only a few months from the pen, where he served one year under a charge of attempted train wrecking.

—A mad dog scare in this and the Marshallburg neighborhood has caused the slaughter of about 40 dogs. One supposed to have been mad passed a few days since, biting everything in its path. It came to the writer's house and snatching up a little dog, carried it to an adjoining lot and had half devoured the little canine before a load of buckshot ended its cannibalistic career.

—A happy bridal party left on the noon train Wednesday for Louisville and other points. At the residence of Mr. M. C. Williams, brother-in-law of the bride, Mr. Samuel Hooker, of Russellville, led to the altar Miss Nancy McKee Kennedy, a beautiful and accomplished young lady of this place. The ceremony, which was performed in a most impressive manner by Dr. McDonald, of Danville, occurred at 11 A. M. The bride couple was preceded by the two charming sisters of the bride, Misses Lina and Clara Kennedy, who were robed in white. The groom, a noble specimen of manhood, is an attorney of Russellville, being a partner of John S. Rhea. He takes his bride to an elegant home already prepared for her reception, where we trust that "peace and contentment" may be theirs through a long and happy life.

LONDON, LAUREL COUNTY.

—The public school opened Monday under favorable circumstances. The teachers, Prof. Ray, Miss Kincaid and Miss Duff are all competent teachers and the school promises to be a success.

—Mrs. Wm. Hayward has the measles. Miss Florence Ferrie has the fever, but is doing as well as could be expected. Up to the present there has been but little fever, and great precautions are being taken to prevent its spreading.

—The depot and section houses are being repainted this week. Judge Brown is having considerable work done on his yard, and other improvements are constantly going on. London is slowly but surely coming to the front. It is by far the best town in the mountains already.

—Henry P. Brown, Sr., of this place, died in Louisville a few days ago. He had been taken there for his health. He was brought home and interred in the McKee burying ground near town. He leaves a wife and two small children who have the sympathy of the entire community.

—In many sections of the State great drouths have prevailed, but Laurel has had an exceptionally good season, in fact the best for years. There has been plenty of rain and the farmers are rejoiced over the abundant crops. Fruit was never so plentiful. The very finest apples are selling at 10 and 15c a bushel.

—Some one writing to your paper from this place last week stated that after Hardin had finished his speech, two prominent republicans approached him at the door and told him they were going to vote for him. This does seem a little strange, from the fact that only "two" "conversions" were made, and yet we learn that a reward of $50 has been offered for the two. Were every republican who heard Hardin and then Bradley, just as honest as the two who were said to make the "noble confession," we believe that Hardin would carry the county without a dissenting voice. More than that, if Bradley himself were honest enough to yield to his convictions, we believe that he would "run" clean off the track.

NEWSY NOTES.

—Two men were killed and five injured during a bull fight in Mexico.

—At Montgomery, W. Va., incendiaries destroyed a hotel, entailing an $18,000 loss.

—W. S. Barbour, clerk of Woodford county, died suddenly at Estill Springs of apoplexy.

—Treasury officials believe that there will be a surplus of over $2,000,000 in the revenues this month.

—It is reported that $94,000 had been secured for the proposed Sherman monument at Washington.

—Minnie Dean was executed at Auckland, New Zealand, for the murder of infants entrusted to her care.

—Six persons were killed as a result of a railroad crossing accident on the Southern railroad near Lynchburg, Va.

—Dodge, Neb., was visited by a disastrous fire, entailing $100,000 loss, and nearly wiping out the entire town.

—Gov. Brown has offered a reward of $200 for the capture of Buford Overton, the Harlan county escaped murderer.

—Miss Laura Clay, of Kentucky, addressed the South Carolina constitutional convention on behalf of woman suffrage. The chief justice of Texas says there is no law against prize fighting in that State. So the Corbett-Fitzsimmons mill is a go.

—At Scribner, Neb., a husband was found hanging dead in one part of his house and the corpse of his wife in another.

—One hundred of the followers of Stokes, the slave trader, were shot by Belgian troops at Uganda, after Stokes had been hanged.

—The society of the army of Tennessee adjourned at Cincinnati to meet at St. Louis next year. G. M. Dodge, of Iowa, was elected president.

—Briggs' Cave in Edmonson county has been purchased by California parties, who will use it as a storage-house for fruits of all kinds.

—At Warsaw, Ind., L. Harriott, who abducted Manile Ernhart and imprisoned her on an island and maltreated her, was taken from jail by a mob and lynched.

—Isaac Edwards was hung in the Ohio penitentiary Tuesday for the murder of a woman, who refused to desert her husband for him. He made no statement and died defiant.

—The big battle-ship Maine has been put in commission at the Brooklyn Navy yard. The Maine was built at the Navy yard by government employes at a cost of nearly $2,400,000.

—At Flat Rock, Bourbon county, Tuesday Dorsey Watkins stabbed William L. Gibson several times in the bowels and beat him insensate with a gun, producing fatal injuries.

—W. M. Poynter, a brakeman from Louisville, was killed and three tramps were seriously injured in a railroad wreck which occurred on the main line of the Louisville & Nashville railroad.

—Citizens of the Cherokee Strip are celebrating the second anniversary of the opening day at Graham's Park, near Perry. The Cherokee Strip, which is two years old, has over 100,000 people, and 30 towns.

—Fire in Indianapolis, which begun on Washington, between Meridian and Pennsylvania streets, destroyed two large business blocks, damaged several others and burned off all the Western Union wires. The loss is enormous.

Mr. Naxia.—May the Lord forgive me for it, but I stopped in the school-house Saturday afternoon a few minutes to hear a Baptist sanctified evangelistic tramp trying to expound the Scriptures. He badly needs a course in some public school, as he butchers English in a manner that is heart-rending. He says he will indict some 25 or 30 of the young people of the neighborhood for laughing at him, when he and his comrades needed drowning in the Hanging Fork for the monkey shines they cut. He should be made to produce the license he claims was granted him by the Baptists. It is my opinion that if the Lord "called" that fellow to preach He made a mistake. One of his comrades had on two big pistols, it is said, to preserve order, and birds of a feather flock together.

SEETAU.

The members of Crescent Lodge No. 60, K. of P. of Somerset, as well as the good citizens of that prosperous little city, have placed under obligations to them the Knights of Pythias of this entire Commonwealth. Their hospitable treatment of the representatives to the grand lodge adds another laurel to Somerset's crown and it her citizens could hear even a tenth of the good things that are being said about them they would feel rewarded for their time and labor spent in entertaining the members of the best fraternal organization under the canopy of heaven.

About 200 Knights representing the 111 lodges in this State were present and the meeting was a most interesting and successful one. Several supreme officers were present including Past Supreme Chancellor W. W. Blackwell, of Lima, O., and Supreme Chancellor W. B. Ritchie, of Indiana. A good deal of work was accomplished and several questions that have been pending for some time were settled. Covington was decided on for the meeting next year and the following grand officers were elected: Grand Chancellor, Dr. R. L. Agnew, of Sebree; Grand Vice Chancellor, Stanley Adams, of Louisville; Grand Prelate, W. P. Settle, of Bowling Green; Grand Keeper of Records and Seal, Wade Shelton, of Louisville; Grand Master of Exchequer, George Glendon, of Covington; Grand Master of Arms, A. C. Green, of Lexington; Grand Inner Guard, Wm. Powers, of Carrollton; Grand Outer Guard, J. B. Thornton, of Somerset.

Henry Wellenbass, a delegate from a German lodge in Louisville, got out an injunction against the Grand Lodge because it denied him admission, on the ground that his lodge used a German ritual. The laws of the Order clearly state that the ritual is to be printed only in English. The proceedings were heard Wednesday by Judge T. Z. Morrow, who withheld his decision. O. H. Waddle represented Wellenbass and W. A. Morrow the Grand Lodge.

At the request of Diadem Lodge No. 81, of Stanford, Mr. W. H. Wearen's name was presented as a candidate for inner guard and he made a splendid race. He was the contending man and it took several ballots to decide. Had the wants of Diadem Lodge been made known sooner Mr. Wearen would have been an easy winner. He will get an office dead ere next year.

Somerset was the gayest looking place imaginable. The court-house, the hotels, the banks, the stores and nearly all of the private dwellings were decorated with flags, bunting, etc., and the taste displayed was the subject of much favorable comment. Stretched from the court-house to the Masonic building in letters five feet tall was the word "Welcome" and from every telegraph and electric light pole hung flags with various inscriptions. Judge Morrow's residence was beautifully decorated and no one did more to make the boys enjoy themselves than he. By the way there are only five Knights of Pythias in his family.

The banquet was a thing of beauty and will be a joy in the memory for years to come of all who partook of it. Everything to eat and drink was there in abundance and of course it was done full justice to. A dozen or more toasts were responded to and oratory was a pleasant feature of the occasion.

The Somerset band played each evening in the commodious stand built for the occasion and discoursed some delightful music.

The hotels and boarding houses were pretty well crowded, but not uncomfortably so and the boys fared well in that line as in every other. The various committees did their work well and deserve unlimited praise. Somerset has shown that she does not do things by halves and the 152 members of Crescent Lodge No. 60 have proven that they can do more for the comfort of their guests than any set of men on earth. Three cheers for Somerset and her clever people.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—Aaron Wright and Miss Lizzie Gooch who is just 15, were married at Kingsville yesterday.

—Mitchell Whitl and Miss Cora James were married at the bride's home in the East End Wednesday. The bride is only 16.

—In an Eastern matrimonial paper, an Oklahoma farmer advertises for a blonde under 20 years who does not "object to cutting corn."

The sun doesn't often shine on a more radiantly beautiful bride than it did Wednesday, when Miss Nannie Kennedy, of Mt. Vernon, became the wife of Samuel Hooker, Esq., of Russellville. They took the train at once for the groom's home and when they passed here, a number of friends were at the depot to bid the bride bon voyage. We who know Miss Kennedy know what a lovely character she is and those who know Mr. Hooker tell us that he is a prosperous young lawyer, who will make a mark in the legal profession. Good luck to them.

W. P. WALTON.

THE Courier-Journal of Wednesday contains an interview with Gov. Buckner, which is a scathing arraignment of Gen. Hardin for his war on democratic principles as expressed by the party on the financial question, for which he says there is no justification or excuse, after he had said before the nomination that "it was the duty of every democrat to submit to the will of his party deliberately expressed, and to accept the combined wisdom of the whole as his rule of action," which statement secured him the nomination. The governor shows in his clear and convincing way that neither the National nor the State platform permits the construction Gen. Hardin puts on them now, when all the free silverites admitted at the time of the State declaration that it was pronounced for a single standard. That Gen. Hardin thought so at the time is shown by his hesitating to accept the nomination on such a platform, after Senator Blackburn had advised him not to. The reckless insubordination of Gen. Hardin has brought needless division in the ranks, but Gov. Buckner thinks that whatever reasons may exist for resentment at his course are overbalanced by stronger reasons for supporting the entire ticket. It is composed of gentlemen admirably qualified for the respective positions to which the party has named them, and their election should not be imperiled by a dissatisfaction which would keep any democrat from the polls. The only way of achieving success is by a compact and continuous organization which will support the nominees, and the governor says he will unhesitatingly vote for the whole ticket, advising all others to do so. The governor of Kentucky will have nothing to do with the solution of the silver question, except through the vague possibility of an appointment of a U. S. Senator, a contingency not likely to arise, since Senators seldom die and few resign. The governor urges just what the INTERIOR JOURNAL has all the time—that it is better to support a democrat who is right on all questions but one, and who has heretofore done valiant service for his party, than to aid by vote or sulks in the election of a ticket whose principles represent everything antagonistic to democratic beliefs and whose advancement would be a menace to good government. If the defeat of Gen. Hardin affected him alone, there might be some excuse for teaching him a lesson, but as it would affect the whole party and be against the interests of the State besides, there is no other alternative but for a good democrat to go to work to secure the election of the whole ticket. So let's up and at 'em, laying aside all differences and looking only to the good of the State and the welfare of the party which has always stood for the rights of the masses against the classes and centralization of power.

THAT we are passing away like a long Summer day, or getting into more lucrative jobs, is shown in the fact that the Hopkinsville Kentuckian can recall but four members who attended the last meeting of the Kentucky Press Association there in 1875 who will be with the boys next week at the same place: J. G. Craddock, J. W. Hopper, E. G. Logan and the writer. We dislike to be classed with these old fellows, especially since we saw Brer. Logan looking through spectacles last week and Brer. Hopper holding his paper at arm's length to read it. Speaking of the Association reminds us that the best program of its existence has been arranged for the K. P. A. at Hopkinsville next week, to be followed by a trip to the Atlanta Exposition in a special train of Pullman tenders free of charge by the officials of the L. & N., who always do the press gang very proud.

AFTER Judge Holt had finished introducing Col. Bradley to the Frankfort audience, Judge Sneed got up and said that Judge Holt had neglected to call attention to the colonel's unwavering friendship for Frankfort, and the great service he had been to the city in its fight to keep the capital. This little sally had a happy effect and is a pretty good story till another is told. The Capital newspaper explains the reason of the colonel's friendship. He got $300 for it, paid him by the citizen's committee to change several republican votes that helped win the fight for Frankfort. Having paid him all he charged, the Capital very naturally thinks the city doesn't owe him anything for his friendship and he mustn't claim votes after having been paid so much money.

THE president is peculiarly persistent. Though rejected by the Senate, which forced him to make another nomination, Mr. Cleveland will again appoint M'ginn Hornblower, of New York, this time to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Judge Jackson. Senator Hill, who caused the rejection before, will not oppose him now, since his ancient enemy shed his censor in the ring during the last canvass in New York and blew his horn for Hill and the rest of the State ticket.

TAKING Gov. Buckner's position as its cue, the Courier-Journal has at last fallen into line and will give Gen. Hardin and the whole ticket its support, which it acknowledges will not be very enthusiastic. The Louisville Times felicitates itself that it pointed the way and led the somewhat reluctant procession along the only line where safety lay. Brer Logan should not arrogate too much to himself. The INTERIOR JOURNAL is somewhat of a pointer itself and just a month ago, immediately after Gen. Hardin's disappointing Louisville speech, made the same suggestion that the Times did a week or two later and which Senator Lindsay, Gov. Buckner and the Courier-Journal have now so ably elucidated. We are glad to have such noble conditors, but we do not propose that these eleventh-hour fellows shall come in and claim full pay with us who have borne the heat and burden of the day. We never could see the justice of such arrangement, even if the Bible does record an instance of the kind, with apparent commendation.

ROLLA K. HART, who led the democrats of the 9th district to defeat at the last election, has demonstrated by his acts the truthfulness of the statement that God moves in a mysterious way his wonders to perform and that what was regarded as a calamity at the time was in fact a real blessing. Rolla is a hater of the first water and too much of a Sut Lovingood natural born darn fool to go to Congress. He is chairman of the democratic county committee of Fleming, the more's the pity, and upon him devolved the duty, as it should have been his pleasure, to introduce Gov. McCreary when he spoke there Monday, at the request of the State Central Committee. Hart refused to do so, however, because he is for Blackburn for Senator, a narrow minded, jackassical reason, that made the McCreary men, who are in the majority there, exceedingly wroth and who will likely sit down hard on the little man, whenever he dares to offer for office again. Rolla is a very small potato and few in a hill. Let him drop into oblivion.

FOR a man who has been paid as much and done as little, Senator Blackburn carries his nerve around with him most prominently when he asks Kentuckians to continue to honor him. According to the Louisville Truth, which has been investigating his record, the Senator has had passed only 13 bills, all of a personal nature and been absent at half of the roll calls during the last four sessions of Congress. For this magnificent service he has been paid the pitiful sum of $55,000. It was worth that much to pull Bill Chandler's ear and a grateful people can never pay the debt of love they owe the roaring cave of winds for his mighty service. It would be cheaper, however, to pay him to stay at home and send a man in his stead, whose statesmanship rises above the ear pulling order. McCreary has done more in Congress than Blackburn could do in a life time. Send him to the rear and put our Congressman on guard.

SENATOR TILLMAN's brother, George, denounced his attack on Senator Butler as cowardly, unmanly and without excuse, especially since Ben had profited by Butler's defeat. Senator Irby and others took a hand and it was long before the wrinkles were smoothed out of war's front. The scene occurred in the South Carolina constitution convention at Columbia and was occasioned by George Tillman proposing to name a new county for Butler. Ben carried the day, however, and his motion to name the county Saluda was adopted 80 to 54. The new crop of statesmen in the Palmetto State are parodies on the old and must go from bad to worse with such creatures as Ben Tillman in the saddle, booted and spurred by an ambition to rule or ruin.

BOSS PLATT had nearly everything his own way in the New York republican convention. His ticket was nominated and Gov. Morton was endorsed for the presidency. The only set back he received was in his plan to dodge the liquor question, but Senator Miller sprung it and after a vigorous speech his amendment was adopted, declaring that "we favor the maintenance of Sunday laws in the interest of labor and morality." The platform endorses a sound and stable currency and does the usual amount of denouncing democratic doings.

THE republicans of Barren have pitted Judge Carr against Jim Richardson for the Legislature. Carr is the man old Frank Wolford beat so badly for Congress and from what we hear Jim is going to do him even worse in this race. Most candidates have to run like hares for the office they want, but Jim will ride into his on a Carr, and with a pass in his pocket at that.

SUSAN B. ANTHONY fainted the other day when a camera was fired at her, thereby showing that a woman never gets so old and tough that she doesn't experience great concern when she sits to have her "picture took."

THE prohibitionists are not making heavy strides in Chicago. The number of saloons there have increased 500 in a year and still they come. The city is a veritable modern Sodom and Gomorrah.

THE republicans of the 29th have pitted John Bennett, of Richmond, against Col. John D. Goodloe for the Senate, but rich as he is Mr. Bennett won't be able to buy a seat in the next Legislature.

OWING to the delay in adjusting the wires, it was 5 o'clock Wednesday before President Cleveland touched the button and the machinery in the Atlanta Exposition did the rest. The ceremonies attending the opening of the South's great show were as extensive as they were elaborate, the whole population of the Gate City apparently turning out to give eclat to the occasion. The arrangement is very much after the order of the World's Fair, in many respects exceeding that of great aggregation of the products of mind and matter. The Midway Pleasure is on equal scale with it, with many of the objectionable features removed to give place to new attractions. The undertaking is a notable success and from now till the last day of the year Atlanta will be the Mecca of millions of sight seers.

THE silly third term talk continues to furnish a topic in these very dry times both in the political as well as the material world. Opposition newspapers, which are never as happy as when abusing Mr. Cleveland, confidently assert that he is laying his wires for another term, but no thinking man puts any confidence in the statements. A sister of the president, Mrs. Yaomans, told a reporter that he would not be a candidate for a third term under any circumstances. The democrats could not afford to nominate him even if he would accept a nomination. The unwritten, though inviolable law of this country, is that no man shall serve more than two terms in the highest office in the gift of the people. It would invite the defeat that would be sure to follow.

THE dedication of the National Military Park, near Chattanooga, which includes many thousand acres, has drawn together the largest reunion of the Blue and the Gray ever seen, and they are mingling in brotherly love where 33 years ago they met in fratricidal strife. Four of the president's official family are present and the leading generals on both sides of the war add to the large number who shouldered the musket during the stormy scenes of the '60s. A general feeling of peace and reconciliation prevails and the old boys are enjoying the reunion to the fullest extent.

IN response to letters of inquiry the New York World publishes answers from governors and high officials of 16 of the leading industrial States, twelve of which including that of the lieutenant governor of Ohio, state that the return of prosperity under the Wilson bill is very marked. Only four take gloomy views of the conditions and they are calamity howlers from rock-ribbed republican States. There has been a wonderful improvement in the times, so evident that the wayfarer man, though he be the biggest of fool protectionists, can not fail to see it.

SOME people have a peculiar idea of the fitness of things. For instance John and James Hancock thought that it was an fait to jump upon the table at a wedding reception in Green county and cut the pigeon wing. The host, Jacob Hartfield and his son, the groom, didn't take to the idea, however, and instead of commending the young men, they opened fire on them and shot them so severely that they did the best thing they ever did for the country, laid over and died.

THE populist campaign committee challenged Hardin for a joint debate, but Chairman Norman advised it to first take up the matter of a joint debate with Bradley, which he was so willing at first to give, and when the consent of the republican committee is given to it, he will then consider the challenge. It is dollars to doughnuts that Bradley will not debate with Pettit and it is almost as sure that Hardin will not waste time on him.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

STARTLING.—Two furnished rooms for rent, with or without board. Mrs. Kate Dudderar.

THE mercury has been up in the 90s during the day and about the same at night for nearly a week. The heat is terrific. Good Lord have mercy upon us.

A JURY was obtained at Danville after much effort in the case of Marshal Frank Ellis for killing Cage Roway at Junction City and two days have been devoted to the testimony. The arguments will commence this morning. Ellis' other case for killing young Murphy is set for Monday and the damage suit of J. A. Hammonds vs. G. P. Bright for Tuesday.

THE warmest weather of the season continues to parch vegetation, dry up streams and make life unpleasant. Coming as late as it does, after a most enervating Summer, the run down systems are succumbing to the heat and much sickness is resulting. The signal service, however, casts a ray of hope, when it says there will probably be showers today and cooler by Saturday morning.

—There is one ice cream manufacturer in New York who uses 20,000 tons of ice a year in his business.

—A freight train killed seven jennets near Lovelaceville, in Ballard county. They were valued at $750.

—Gen. A. J. Warner proposes to put out another ticket for president and vice president. Sibley doesn't seem to like.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—The Advocate says there were 45 additions to the Southern Methodist church at Danville during the year.

—Elder J. S. Sweeney's subject next Sunday night will be "Women, Bicycles and Bloomers."—Paris Kentuckian.

—Yesterday was the Jewish New Year and the 5,656th since the creation of the world according to their calculation.

—The meeting at Salem, Harrison county, conducted by Elder J. W. Harding, has had 18 additions, and large audiences.

—Bishop A. G. Haygood is presiding over the Conference in session at Winchester, with the largest attendance in its history.

—The reply of a Detroit pastor to the remark that "the devil never takes a vacation" was that he didn't propose to imitate the devil.

—The Georgetown Times says that Elder I. J. Spencer's meeting at the Christian church there has resulted in 50 conversions and the interest increasing.

—The pastor of a church at Rockford, Ill., had a premonition that the building would be struck by lightning, so he hustled his congregation out, just in time to escape the current. Four tarried and were severely burned.

—His Stanford friends, and their name is legion, will be delighted to know that Rev. W. E. Ellis has accepted a unanimous call to the largest Christian church in Memphis and will take charge Oct. 1. His salary will be more than twice the amount doled out to him here, with parsonage thrown in.

—Over 17,000 people have died in Japan of cholera since it broke out.

—Martin Ballweber, arrested the other day in Pittsburgh, said that he has been a tramp 44 years. He is 78 years old.

—The Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows has adopted an amendment by which saloon keepers, bar tenders and professional gamblers are denied admission to the order.

Miss RACHEL ALLISON went over to Lexington Tuesday and returned yesterday.

Misses MOLLIE DAUGHTERY and Lula Allen returned from Louisville yesterday.

Mr. L. E. FARNS, of Lexington, is here to see his wife, who continues very sick.

Mr. L. C. POWELL, of Jacksonville, Mo., is visiting his many relatives in the West End.

Mrs. ED CARTER, who has been visiting her brother in Louisville, returned yesterday.

Misses SUSAN WARREN and Mary Davis went to Perryville Wednesday to visit Mrs. Prewitt.

Misses JEANIE and MARY COOPER FLELAND have returned from Louisville and Paducah respectively.

Mr. H. K. MILLWARD, of the Millward Music Co., Lexington, was the guest of Mr. P. H. Idol this week.

Mr. R. H. PATTUS, of the Gilbert Creek section, is spending the week at his old home in Somerset.

Mrs. H. G. COOK, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. A. B. McKinney, returned to Jellico Tuesday.

Mrs. SUSAN BRADLEY, of Mexico, Mo., is making her first visit to her son, Mr. T. A. Bradley, of Boyle, in 17 years.

An exchange says that Mrs. Rose Patrick (nee Richards) at Jackson, has a cucumber vine with 62 cucumbers on it.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. FAINE and children, there are two of the latter now, arrived last night on a visit to Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Tate.

Miss CATTIE THURMOND is doing a good business with her books, A Bible Story, Mary Harland's Home of the Bible and Silver and Gold.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. WEAREN, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. WALTON and J. D. WEAREN attended the K. P. Grand Lodge meeting at Somerset.

Misses MATTIE and CATHERINE ALCOCK, of Hustonville, left Tuesday for Oxford, O., where they will enter the Western Seminary.

That lovely little blonde, Miss May Adams, was on Wednesday's train returning to Louisville from attendance on the Hooker-Kennedy wedding.

Mr. L. J. HUBBLE, after an absence of 34 years in Illinois, paid his brother, Mr. J. Hubble, a short visit this week, returning from his old tramping ground in Pulaski county.

Mrs. JOHN R. BRADY, of Missouri, who came to visit Mrs. Elizabeth Higgins, was called home by a message stating that her father, who is 87, and her husband, are sick.

Misses ANNA FRYE, of Pittsburg, Pa., Annie Jones, of Pine Grove, and Mary VanArsdale, of Harrodsburg, were guests of their schoolmate, Mrs. W. M. Bright, this week.

Mr. W. P. WALTON and Mrs. Walton will be at the Press meeting. That is good news. It wouldn't be a gathering of quill drivers without Walton, Jack Collier and Bob Morningstar.—Louisville Post.

Miss JESSIE TRIMBLE, of the staff of the Evening Press of Chattanooga, is visiting the daughters of Dr. Edward Alcorn at Hustonville and paid our town a pleasant visit Wednesday, with the doctor and Miss Lucy Alcorn.

Dr. L. R. YATZ, who left here 18 years ago to seek a fortune in the West, arrived yesterday on his first visit in all that time. He has done well financially and time has dealt so gently with him that his old friends see but little change in his appearance, he being still as fat as a match.

The business manager had the honor of meeting Vice-President Adlai E. Stevenson on the train the other day as he was en route to Chickamauga. He is a splendid specimen of American manhood and all who were introduced to him were charmed with his affability and good humor.

Mrs. MARY J. MILLER and Mrs. W. M. Lackey left yesterday, the former to visit Mrs. W. R. Manier in Nashville and the latter to spend a few weeks with her son, S. E. Lackey, at Gallatin. These sisters are over 70 years of age, but are remarkably well preserved, and continue to enjoy life as much as the most of us.

Get a pair of Ziegler shoes. They are the cheapest because they wear the longest, because they are the most comfortable, because they are the most stylish. They are sold only at Shanks'.

Boys! If you want a Fall suit remember that you can have one ordered at Shanks and get it in 24 hours and that a week is more time than we want. Ask those who have ordered suits from us and see it this is not true.

Willis Kinley, a Junction City dray, was fined $25 and given 10 days in jail by Judge Davidson Wednesday for carrying concealed weapons. He was arrested at the colored picnic at Milledgeville by Constable Benedict.

Stanford is to have chin music from two and possibly more of the republican candidates. H. S. Irwin, candidate for railroad commissioner, will speak here, Oct. 10, at 2 p. m. and W. S. Taylor, candidate for attorney general, Oct. 3.

Dr. BENDER, the painless dentist, will extract teeth free of charge each day of his stay here next week between the hours of 8:30 and 9:30 a. m. He also fills teeth without pain and crows them without pain. See ad. on first page and wait for him.

Mr. G. B. COOPER has been appointed by Chairman Norman to be chairman of the campaign committee for this county. It will be his duty to appoint sub-committees and hustle the boys out right and left and we know of no one more competent to do so.

After being nominally dry for 11 years, a vote was taken at Corbin Tuesday as to whether she should remain so. By a majority of 15, after a hotly contested fight, it was decided that she should. Editor Chesnut, who worked in season and out to accomplish the result, is as happy as a big sunflower.

The second section of freight train 32, Capt. Cook and Engineer E. G. Waller, broke a wheel near North Fork at 4:45 a. m. Wednesday and overturned six cars of coal, two of lumber and one of bark, breaking them up and scattering their contents. The track was obstructed for eight hours delaying all trains.

Blind.—For a long time, Mr. Silas Anderson has suffered with his eyes, till one of them had nearly lost the sight. The other night he retired with both of them hurting him and when he attempted to get up next morning he found himself stone blind. He continues so and the doctors say the sight is gone for good. The old man has been a hoarse in his day and his friends regret to see his declining years marred by the terrible visitation.

A. P. A.—W. E. Anon, who has been several months trying to raise enough members to form an A. P. A. Council here, succeeded Tuesday night in corraling enough of them to organize and elect officers, whose names we could not get, even had we desired to print them. There doesn't seem to be any necessity for this oath-bound political organization in this country and it will go the way of know-nothingism and kindred concerns, even quicker than they did.

JAILER BROWN, of Casey, placed in jail Tuesday, Bill Vandever, who was tried at Liberty for stealing money from Matthew Wilkinson and held over till circuit court.

KILLING.—Mr. H. W. Caldwell, who was here yesterday from Waynesburg, tells us that St. Estes shot and killed young Singleton at John Green Oaks in the edge of Pulaski and at his trial was held without bail. There had been no previous trouble and Estes, who was drunk, shot his victim, as he afterwards said, just to see him fall. It is hoped that he will be seen to fall also through a platform with a rope around his neck.

SURE THE MARSHAL.—The other night while he was nursing his sick boy, Marshal O. J. Newland was disturbed by noise made by a negro named Will King alias Bud Shore. He halloed to him to desist when the negro cursed him. The next day Mr. Newland arrested the man and was taking him to jail, when the officer said something about his curing him last night. The negro replied that he would do it again and gave Newland some more "sass." Thereupon he clubbed him several times, for which beating and bruising the negro has brought suit against Newland for $1,000 damages, the case to be called at the October court.

Go to Jesse D. Wearen for fire insurance, he has the best of companies.

THIEVES relieved the bin of Dr. Joseph Ballou, which is only 150 feet from his residence, of 40 bushels of wheat a few nights ago.

LITTLE PERSONALS.—Born to the wife of Joel T. Embury a boy, their second. Ed Wilkinson has a little girl at his house. All parties are doing nicely.

The republicans will meet here at 2 p. m., to-morrow, 21st, to nominate candidates for the Legislature and school superintendent. Mr. B. B. King will be named for the former and Miss Kate Blain for the latter.

The Colored Teachers' Institute conducted by Prof. C. C. Monroe, an unusually intelligent man, is proving of great benefit to the members, all of whom take part in the discussions, which are of an elevating nature. The music, which forms a considerable part of the program, is the best that has been heard in Stanford for a long time and many white people are attracted to the courthouse to hear it. Dr. W. D. Tardiff presides at the organ and is himself a very fine vocalist, while Miss Lutilla Glynn's alto is pronounced as almost perfect. The teachers all look well, dress well and more than discount their white brethren and sisters of the same calling.
